FREDERICK PAIR ADMITS GUILT IN SHOOTING CASE

James B. Heflin, 23, and Roy Marvin Jackson, 21, both of Frederick, were in the Adams County jail today in default of bail after entering pleas of guilty Friday before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore on charges resulting from the shooting Tuesday morning of a 20-year-old Hanover man near Dicks' Dam.

The two were extradited from Maryland Friday after hearings in Frederick County court on fugitive charges placed by Pennsylvania State Police of the local sub-station before Justice Basehore.

After extradition had been arranged, the two were brought here for arraignment before the local justice.

Third Is Marine
Heflin entered guilty pleas to charges of aggravated assault and battery, pointing a gun and violation of the uniform firearms act. Bail in his case was set at $2,000, and he was returned to the Adams County jail in default of the bail.

Jackson entered his plea to a charge of violation of the uniform firearms act in being an accomplice of Heflin. He was held in the local jail in default of $1,000 bail.

A third Frederick man taken into custody by Frederick police along with Heflin and Jackson was released to the U. S. Marine Corps of which he is a member, with the Marines to provide trial and any punishment. He is Harold R. Perkins Jr., 19, also of Frederick.

Youth Shot Monday
The arrests followed a shooting shortly after midnight Monday. Bernard F. Ditzler, 20, Hanover, was one of five Hanover men who had been swimming at Dicks' Dam and were returning to Hanover when they saw another car, passing them and driving toward Dicks' Dam which they thought contained persons they knew.

The five Hanover men turned their car about and followed the other vehicle along the road toward Dicks' Dam. When the other vehicle stopped, discussion between the two groups disclosed that the occupants of the other car were unknown to the Hanover men.

The discussion led to a dispute and Ditzler got out of the vehicle in which he was a passenger and started to walk around the other car. As he did so Heflin allegedly stepped out of the front of the other car and shot Ditzler in the abdomen and upper right arm with a .32 caliber pistol. Heflin and his group then drove off and Ditzler was removed to a physician's office and then to the Hanover Hospital.

RAISED $3,079 THRU SALE OF EASTER SEALS

The annual sale of Easter seals during a 30-day period before Easter Sunday brought in to the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults a total of $3,079.78, according to a final report being sent to the state society by Robert J. McMullin, Easter seal chairman for Adams County. The donations were received in response to 7,000 letters mailed early in March to individuals, organizations and businesses throughout the county.

Most of the money will stay in the treasury of the county society for use among the 90 to 100 crippled children in the county that are under the care of the society. Campaign expenses totaled $361.37 with much of the folding, stuffing and sealing being done by volunteers.

The county society will send 8.3 per cent of the gross receipts, or $255.62, for national society services and 15.7 per cent, or $483.53, to the state society for its program, an important part of which is the operation of summer camps for crippled children.

Sum For Research
In addition to those sums one per cent of the gross has been sent to the National Society Research Foundation which is supported by Easter Seal societies throughout the nation.

So far the Easter Seal Research Foundation has awarded over $268,065 for research projects aimed at determining the causes and means of prevention of certain crippling conditions. Among these grants is a recent one to the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine for a possible three years of study on "The Relationship of Embryonic Oxygen Deficiency and the Development of Congenital Malformations."

Chairman McMullin reported that 20 volunteers helped with the 1958 seal sale in this county.

Russia Uses 84th Veto On U.S. Resolution On Lebanon And UN

By WILLIAM M. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union today pushed similar proposals with rival goals for an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly on the Middle East crisis.

The 11-nation Security Council will take up the proposals when it meets again Monday to talk about U.S. Marines in Lebanon, British paratroopers in Jordan and complaints that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is trying to overthrow the Lebanese and Jordanian governments. The proposals were submitted Friday night after the Council failed to pass three resolutions dealing with the situation. One vetoed the Soviet Union's 84th veto.

Defeat Russ Resolution
The Council beat down 8-1, with Japan and Sweden abstaining, a Soviet resolution calling on the United States and Britain to get their troops out of Lebanon and Jordan immediately. Russia was expected to offer a similar resolution to any General Assembly

MRS. GUY REX DIES YEAR AFTER HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Sylvia M. Rex, 46, widow of Guy A. Rex, died at 8:50 o'clock Friday night at her home, Biglerville R. 1.

The death was caused by a cerebral embolism. She had been in declining health for the last year and had been bedfast for the last ten days.

Her husband, the late Guy A. Rex, was fatally injured in an accident last July. He fell from a sprayer while engaged in work and suffered a fractured skull which led to his death on July 13, 1957.

A daughter of the late Thomas J. and Flora R. (Griffie) Howe, Mrs. Rex was a native of Cumberland county and had resided in the Biglerville area for the last 30 years.

Services Monday
She was a member of the Wenksville Lutheran Church, the Friends Bible Class of that church and of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Benderville Fire Co.

FILE ESTATE BOND

Sadie J. Dolly filed an administration bond in the $2,000 estate of Russell L. Dolly, late of Hamilton Twp. in the office of register and recorder today.

Then a Soviet veto killed a rival U.N. resolution that would have sent a U.N. military force to protect Lebanon's independence and insure against illegal infiltration of arms and men. The Marines would leave when this force takes over, U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said. The resolution got nine favorable votes with Sweden abstaining.

Defeat Swedish Move
Lodge will offer a similar resolution to the 81-nation Assembly. Two-thirds of those voting must approve an Assembly measure. Experienced diplomats guessed the U.S. measure might barely make it but doubted that the Soviet resolution could get through.

Finally, the Council voted down a Swedish resolution to suspend until further notice the activities of U.N. observers now in Lebanon to insure against infiltration. This resolution said the U.S. landings had "substantially altered the observers' situation." Nine members opposed it. Sweden and Russia supported it.

Small Arms Fire Nicks U.S. Transport Flying Troops To Middle East; Red Warning

Rebel Attack Is Reported

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanese rebels charged through the grounds of the American mission school today to attack the main building of the Lebanese government.

The building houses the office of Premier Sami Solh.

The mission compound houses a girl's school, a theological seminary, and a mission printing plant.

Reports from the scene said the rebels had entered the compound and launched an attack on Lebanese security forces who were trying to set up wire barricades in front of the main government building.

While they were setting up the barricades the rebels opened fire and drove security forces back to the government building. The rebels got close enough to throw two bombs inside the courtyard of the building, injuring one guard but doing little other damage.

VOLUNTEERS TO GIVE CIVIL WAR DISPLAY TODAY

The Chartiers Valley Volunteers, Co. E, 9th Regiment, was setting up camp this morning at the National Museum grounds, near the home of Joseph Rosensteel, preparatory to a weekend "skirmish" here.

The Pittsburgh area residents have made a hobby of the recreation of the Civil War period through the wearing of authentic uniforms and the firing of authentic muskets and other equipment. They are among the most active units of the North-South Skirmish Association, formed of similar groups throughout the U. S. which don Union or Confederate costume, depending upon their location, and fire the old weapons. Each year they gather for a shooting match that so far has resulted in "Confederates" winning just about as often as the "Union" forces.

The "Volunteers" are wearing several thousand dollars worth of authentic Civil War relics which they have purchased themselves in their efforts to obtain the authentic flavor of the Civil War period. All leather equipment, belts, cartridge boxes, etc., are actual Civil War relics as are the swords the men wear and the muskets they carry and fire.

Exhibitions Scheduled
The uniforms are authentic in design, having been copied from Civil War uniforms. The Chartiers Valley group wears both the infantry costume and the bright red jackets of the artillerymen. While the muskets are authentic, the cannon is a half size replica of a Napoleon. Their ammunition when firing the cannon is concrete filled fruit juice cans, but for the firing today and Sunday only wadding will be used. The half-size Napoleon can "do a lot of damage" when an actual fruit can shell is used, it was pointed out.

The group plans a display of firing of the old muskets and the Napoleon replica plus some drill between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon at the National Museum parking lot and picnic grounds. A similar drill will be held Sunday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock.

By EDWIN A. SHANKE

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Small arms fire nicked a U.S. transport flying a load of American troops into the Middle East today amid a campaign of dire warnings from President Nasser and his Communist backers.

As the crisis moved toward a verbal showdown in the U.N. General Assembly, 1,700 U.S. paratroopers began landing in Beirut to support the 6,300 Marines quietly patrolling Beirut's ports and beaches.

An authoritative U.S. source said more troops from the 24th Infantry Division were almost certain to arrive here, possibly Sunday.

Narrow Miss

The men flew into Beirut airport over the section of the capital held by pro-Nasser rebels. Presumably their bullets hit the transport. One bullet came within six inches of T.Sgt. Normand J. Charest, navigator of a Marine transport bringing men from Camp Lejeune, N.C. The paratroopers commanded by Brig. Gen. David W. Gray came from Germany after a stopover at Adana, Turkey. Gray said he expected all 1,700 of his men to be at the Beirut airport by midnight, cleaning out the paratroop force at Adana. The jumpers were to take over control of the airport from the Marines.

Warns Of Bloodshed

Nasser warned Friday that bloodshed might occur. He vowed that "we will befriend those who befriend us and meet aggression with aggression."

The President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria made the pledge in Damascus after a secret meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Moscow.

If the United States and Britain antagonize the Arabs, Nasser warned, "we shall fight to the last drop of our blood." But by saying in the future tense that the U.A.R. will meet aggression, he indicated he was not spilling for a fight at this time. The Communist world previously accused the United States and Britain of committing aggression by sending in troops.

Moscow and Peking avoided any definite promises of armed aid to Nasser. The Soviet foreign ministry issued a declaration which warned, however, that Russia cannot remain on the sidelines.

The Soviet Union will have to take "necessary measures dictated by the interests of the security of the Soviet Union and preservation of general peace," the declaration said.

The measures were not spelled out, although there was an ominous hint that Moslems in Soviet Central Asia might intervene in the adjacent Middle East. There was no repetition of the 1956 Suez crisis threats of sending Soviet "volunteers" into the Middle East, however.

300 Windows Shattered

Underlining the Russian charges of U.S.-British aggression, a mob of 100,000 shattered nearly 300 windows in the U.S. embassy in Moscow and splashed ink on the lower part of the building. About 100 persons demonstrated peacefully at the British Embassy.

Red China joined in with a note warning that "peace-loving nations and people will not stand by with folded arms" if Britain remains in Jordan.

The United States warned Nasser that any attack by his troops or by forces under U.A.R. control "could involve grave consequences seriously impairing our relations." The warning was delivered in Cairo by U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare, the State Department said, and was accompanied by a pledge that American troops would get out of Lebanon as soon as circumstances permit.

IKE DROPS HINT ABOUT SPECIAL SESSION IN FALL

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is reported to have dropped a hint he may call a special fall session of Congress if he doesn't get all the foreign aid funds he thinks are needed to meet the present crisis.
A legislator who attended an emergency White House meeting Friday night said Eisenhower—without making a threat—told the group of eight Republicans and Democratic senators he hoped he wouldn't have to call a special session. Congress is expected to adjourn next month.
Citing the Middle East crisis, Eisenhower told the group he urgently wants the $97½ million dollars which the House cut from the $3,675,000,000 foreign aid bill. The Senate has not acted.
Prospects Dim
The White House meeting came amid reports that the administration might even seek additional money because of the Middle East situation.
But two of the senators said Eisenhower was told prospects are dim for getting more.
They added that the group told Eisenhower they see little hope the House would go along with the Senate in restoring the full $97½ millions.
It was suggested the Senate might restore 400 to 500 millions but the House would likely balk. The likelihood, the senators said, was a compromise for 300 to 400 million dollars in restored funds.
The Senate Appropriations Committee completed work on the foreign aid bill Friday and is expected to begin voting on its provisions about next Wednesday.

FLOOD DANGER ON SHENANGO RIVER PASSES

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—The danger of more flooding from the rain-swollen Shenango River has passed, reports Vernon Houghton, chief river forecaster for the U. S. Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh. And residents of the Shenango Valley expressed hope that one of the worst floods in years would underscore the need for a proposed flood control dam at Sharpshoof north of Sharon.

The rampaging Shenango, fed by heavy rains early in the week, spilled over first at Greenville in Northern Mercer County Tuesday and at Sharon the following day. It crested Thursday at New Castle 1½ feet below flood stage.

Would Prevent Floods
Houghton, following a tour of the stricken area, said the Beaver River would be able to absorb the excess water without threat of flooding further downstream.

After flying over the Sharon area Thursday, Rep. Carroll Kearns (R-Pa.) said: "We of this area know that the dam would prevent such floods as this. And now we hope to convince Washington that the dam should be placed high among the flood control projects."

Leader Urges Funds
Gov. Leader sent a telegram to the Army Engineers, urging immediate appropriation of funds to design and construct the dam.

A $100,000 allocation for preliminary planning of the dam awaits congressional action. It is contained in a compromise bill.

The flood at Sharon was the worst in 45 years and caused damage estimated unofficially at two to three million dollars. Many families had to evacuate homes in low-lying areas and several industrial plants were forced to close by high water.

Scores of bridges were washed out in Mercer County during the three-day siege. Numerous roads were closed in both Mercer and Lawrence counties.

One Girl Dies
No deaths were reported due to the floods in either Mercer or Lawrence County, but a four-month old girl was swept from her father's arms Tuesday in flash flooding near Raymlinton in Venango County.

All that remained today was a massive cleanup job. Streets and houses near the river were coated with mud and debris.

"ALONG THE SHORE"

It's fun to walk along the shore... and watch the foaming spray... ever rolling in and out... like merry elves at play... it's great to breathe the pure salt air... while strolling o'er the sand... the magic of the shoreline helps... mankind to understand... it's like a trip to paradise... to sojourn by the sea... for it instills in weary hearts... fond hope in things to be... far out across the water... like corks, ships bob in view... only disappearing when... they cross the horizon blue... the charm and beauty of the sea... is something to adore... if you seek peace, you'll find it... as you walk along the shore.

Eastern League

The pitching-rich New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies get richer as far as hurling talent is concerned.

Two of their teen-age prodigies provided a glimpse of things to come in the American and National Leagues Friday night in the Eastern League.

Bill Stafford, 19, of New York's Binghamton Club, hooked up in a duel with righthander Ed Keegan, 18, of the Phillies Williamsport club at Binghamton.

When right-hander Stafford left in the 10th for a pitchhitter, he had allowed a run, eight hits and fanned seven. Keegan took the loss in the 12th when Fred Carpenter hit his first homer with a man on base to give the Triplets the victory. Keegan allowed four hits and fanned 11 while failing to win his 10th game.

Allentown scored four runs in the eighth to crack a 6-6 tie and edge Lancaster 10-8 at Lancaster. The Albany Senators maintained their northern division lead by cracking down on the Springfield Giants 7-1 at Springfield and Reading left-hander Carl Mathias had help from a 13-hit attack while he wittewashed York 3-0 in his home ball park.

FIND OLD BOOKS IN COURT HOUSE

Adams County Commissioners continue to dust off old documents and dockets during their housecleaning of one of the cellar vaults at the courthouse. Commissioners' Clerk Crosby N. Hartzell heads the "clean up staff" comprised of other clerks and stenographers in the commissioners' office.

Among the books uncovered recently was a Stallion Docket that was kept by the prothonotary's office for registering horses. The docket covered purebred stallions, grade stallions and cross breeds.

The first name in the docket was a purebred entry named Garibaldi, owned by C. A. Hershney, Gettysburg R. 5. According to the information listed the horse weighed 1,700 pounds, stood 17 hands high, and was registered April 15, 1908, which is about the earliest date listed in the book. Prothonotary at that time was the late W. A. Taughinbaugh.

Forty-nine pure bred were registered up to January 18, 1936, which was approximately when the docket went out of use.

In the grade stallion listings, 85 were registered from April, 1922; and crossbreeds, four from March, 1912.

Hartzell said plans are to file and index all records so they will be more easily accessible. New shelving in the vaults will be installed later.

The vault currently being cleaned is under the register and recorder's office and is comprised of two rooms.

Boy Fatally Burned When Barrel Explodes

MESHOPPEN, Pa. (AP)—Francis Johnson, 10, died Friday night in Taylor Memorial Hospital of burns suffered July 10 when a barrel exploded and burst into flames.

The boy and several friends were playing in an area where a carnival had played. Lighted matches tossed into the bung hole of a barrel ignited paint or oil.

The Johnson boy was burned running to a creek 35 feet away. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson.

DESIGNER HAS 6 STYLE SHAPES IN RICH FABRIC

Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Today's women must be prepared to travel in clothes that are appropriate, comfortable and exotic.

Such is the credo of Tina Leser, a travel-happy designer. She delights in jaunting to far corners of the earth with her equally global-minded husband Jim Howley. She brings back fabulous silks, rich brocades and Oriental embroideries to be shaped to the needs and figures of American women.

Winding up a news-packed week of fall fashion showings for 200 visiting fashion editors, the resourceful and romantic Tina shows six major shapes of style for fall and winter, 1958. They are: the dust-ruffle, the Watteau, the trapeze, the harem skirt, the powder puff silhouette and the bifurcated line—the latter consisting of skinny pants and varied tops, in costumes designed for glamor at home or comfort in air travel.

Oriental Fabrics
As always, Miss Leser creates an Arabian Nights mood with her rich Oriental fabrics, her Aladdin's lamp color magic, her subtle shaping of line to suggest the romance of ancient Persia. Authentic regional and traditional fashions have fascinated this designer since the time she opened her first salon in Honolulu a couple of decades ago and introduced international travelers to the color and excitement of native Hawaiian beach clothes.

Of major interest among her new shapes of fashion is the dust-ruffle silhouette, used in both dresses and coats and consisting of a straight, unfitted sheath ending in a ruffled flounce at the knee-high hemline. This is particularly effective in a simple gray flannel dress buttoned down the front and trimmed in lighter gray piping, and in a bulky coat of brushed mohair in muted tones of pink through orange, faintly plaided.

The Watteau dresses are for gala occasions, have semitipped tops and graceful flaring, dome-shaped skirts. One example is in pale green printed wool challis with a small brown flower motif.

Trapeze Silhouette
The trapeze silhouette is done in a number of versions, one of the most striking of which is a short evening dress in white flannel embroidered in green and gold, shown with a matching sweater lined in 14-karat gold gauze.

Tina's powder puff silhouette has a puffed back panel floating from the shoulders and caught under at the hemline. Her harem skirts are shown in a number of outfits, including a plaid wool dress in russet tones, worn with a rosy toned and bulky coat of looped mohair.

But perhaps the most history will be made with Miss Leser's new outfit for airplane travel in the space age. It consists of a short jacket and narrow slacks in beautifully tailored checked tweed worn with a color coordinated coat in bulky but lightweight mohair with dashing collar.

Tonight at the closing sessions of the Harney firemen's festival a feature event will be the awarding of a new Ford car. YOUNG GI ACTOR STARTS CAREER IN ARMY SHOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The luckiest day in John Erwin's life came just a year ago when the draft blew him into the Army. John, who quit Indiana University and came to New York to study for a theater career, had managed to get three parts in off-Broadway shows. When Uncle Sam beckoned he had made a number of show business contacts that might sometime pan out, and hoped that soon he could stop bell-hopping, room-clerking or food-checking in hotels.

The Fort Wayne boy, who plays tenor saxophone and clarinet, was assigned to the 8th Infantry Band and shipped to Germany. One day he read in Stars and Stripes that an American film packaging firm was going to make a television film series about Medal of Honor winners among World War II infantrymen. John wrote the producers a letter, and wangled a leave in which to visit them in Munich.

Won Two Leads
Result: He was cast to play the lead in two of the series, and later was cast for a third.

"I've played a Red Cross field director, a captain and a chaplain so far," says Pfc. Erwin, "and when I go back to Germany in a couple of weeks, I'll be playing in more of them."

The series, for fall release, is called "Citizen Soldier" and already has been syndicated to 35 TV stations. A hundred more outlets are expected to be sold before the fall season starts.

TV Offers
Meanwhile, however, shows in which Pfc. Erwin appears have been given some Hollywood previews, resulting in two offers for other TV work. And last week a producer called to offer him "a very good role in a theatrical motion picture with a very important star."

That isn't all the Army has done for a once struggling young actor. John entered the All-Army Entertainment Contest, won his category in Germany, was sent to compete in the finals at Ft. Belvoir, Va., and won again. Sunday night, therefore, he will appear on Ed Sullivan Show doing a satiric impression of how "Julius Caesar" would be played with a Hollywood cast doing summer stock.

Today's Talk

A BEDTIME PRAYER

Our Heavenly Father, we come to the end of another day, and thank you for every blessing bestowed upon us. It has been good to have lived another day under your watchful eyes, and to be giving over to this restful bed for the night. Give to us a clean mind and heart. Forgive us for every error, every mistake, and all our transgressions.

We ask for an increase of courage and for a kindly patience, and we pray for the humility of Christ so that we may earn peace and goos will and so influence others as you, our Heavenly Father, have blessed and influenced each one of us.

Purge us of all selfishness and love of gain. May we administer to the joy and spiritual success of others. Make us all become worthy servants in your Kingdom upon this earth. Teach us to be kindly, understanding and reverent.

Blot out the very memory of petty annoyances and worries. And for our wearied bodies grant us the peace and relaxation of sleep and pleasant dreams. Arm us against ourselves and lead us into pleasant paths. Explain Christ to us so that we may emulate Him, and expand His Kingdom.

Melt all unhappy memories from our minds and may the love of Heaven so saturate our entire consciousness that we may fall asleep with your blessings upon us, and may your fingers of love touch this body of ours, redeeming it, upon awakening to a day of greater and happier usefulness. In the name of our Heavenly Father, through Christ, Amen.

THE CHEERFUL MAN

I met a cheerful man today
And stopped to chat with him awhile.

"Why is it, you are always gay?
Why is it that you always smile?"

I asked him, "Have you never known
A disappointment or a woe,
And has no plan been overthrown
That you had hoped would be a go?"

"Sure thing!" he said. "I've had my woes.
I've had two fortunes wiped away;

But I've no time to think of those Affairs which happened yesterday.

I've had my plans go wrong, and I Have pressed my lips to sorrow's cup.

But when I'm down I never cry,
I spend my time in getting up.

"That's why you see me smiling now.
I may get knocked down, now and then,

But you can wager, anyhow,
That I will soon jump up again.

There is no easy road to fame;
To win success is quite a chore.
Why, half the big men I can name

Have failed a dozen times or more."

State Fruit Crops Are Up Except For Apples

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Department of Agriculture Friday predicted increases in all Pennsylvania fruit crops except apples.
Increases were expected for peaches, sweet cherries, red sour cherries, grapes and pears. Poor pollination weather caused a relatively light crop of apples in most Pennsylvania commercial areas, the department said.

Finish Harvest Of Cherry Crop
In Record Time: Adams county fruit growers and processors, finishing today the harvest of the final remnants of the cherry crop, estimate the harvest roughly at 1,200 tons for 1948 from weather-hit orchards.

That figure was about 800 tons lower than the 2,000 ton estimate of last year and about 1,800 tons under the 4,000 tons that some growers estimate could be produced in a normal year.

Just recovering from the disastrous cherry leaf spot infestation of 1945, the cherry crop was hit this year by cold spells during the spring, with one freeze, on the morning after Easter, credited with doing the most damage.

The Isaac Armstrong Family

By B. F. M. MacPherson

The notes pertaining to the family of Isaac Armstrong, soldier of the Revolution, are continued at this time.

In the "Adams Centinel" for Tuesday November 1, 1830, the following obituary notice appeared:—
"Died, Sunday morning, October 31, 1830, Mr. Isaac Armstrong, Senior, of Cumberland Township, this county, a soldier of the Revolution, aged 77 years. The deceased had sustained, throughout a long life, the character of an upright and vi-tuous member of the Church and Society."

Note:—Isaac Armstrong was a son of Quintain Armstrong, Senior, and his wife Janet (or Janet) Mc-Mordie Armstrong. Among with his brothers John and Quintain II he (Isaac) is mentioned in his father's will.

Complete Armstrong Notes
Adams Centinel, Monday, September 8, 1845.

"Died, September 7, 1845, at the residence of her uncle, Quintain Armstrong, in this borough (Gettysburg), Deborah Ann Blackley, aged 8 years and 5 months."

Note: Rebecca, daughter of Isaac and Ann Armstrong, married — ?
Blackley. The child, Deborah Ann, mentioned in the above obituary, was their daughter. Nothing further is known pertaining to this branch of the family, with but one exception, and that is another obituary, which appeared in the "Centinel" on Monday, May 12, 1845, as follows:—
"Died, April 23, 1845, near Reisterstown, Baltimore County, Maryland, Rebecca Jane, daughter of Mr. John Blackley, aged 10 years."

Note:—Apparently Rebecca Jane Blackley (or Blackley) was a sister of the Deborah Ann mentioned in the obituary of September 8, 1845.
It is possible that both are buried in Black's Graveyard (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) in unmarked graves.

This concludes the notes on the Isaac Armstrong family.
Some weeks ago data on the Boyd-Tate-McMordie family was presented in this column. Since that time some additional information has been found, citing various inter-family relationships.

Adams Centinel, Monday, January 23, 1827.

Early Pastor Here
"Died, Friday, January 20, 1837, at the residence of her brother,
Mr. Robert McMordie, in Franklin Township, this county, Mrs. Janet (or Janet) Armstrong, relict of Mr.
Quintain Armstrong, dec'd."

Note:—Janet (or Janet) Armstrong was the daughter of Rev.
Robert and Janet (Boyd) McMordie.
She was married to Quintain Armstrong, soldier of the Revolution, and was the mother of Quintain
Armstrong II, Rebecca (Armstrong)
Campbell, Isaac Armstrong, and John Armstrong.

Sometime between 1837, the year
his sister, Janet (McMordie) Armstrong, died, and 1846, Robert Mc-Mordie moved to Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pennsylvania. In the "Adams Centinel" for Monday, April 27, 1846, the following obituary appeared:—

"Died, Monday April 20, 1846, at Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, Mr.
Robert McMordie, Senior, formerly of this county, aged about 65 years."

Note:—Robert McMordie was a son of Rev. Robert and Janet (Boyd) McMordie. His father was one of the early ministers of Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church,
a chaplain in the War of the American Revolution and a charter member of the Order of the Cincinnati. When the Rev. McMordie died intestate in 1796, his sons, Robert and John McMordie, were the Administrators of his estate.

In an agreement made April 26, 1797, regarding the division of the Rev. McMordie's estate, his heirs are listed as Francis McMordie, Adam McMordie, John McMordie, Robert McMordie, Quintain and Janet (McMordie) Armstrong, and Agnes (McMordie) Speer. Another daughter, Margaret McMordie, had died in 1777.

Inherited "Plantation"
Francis, the eldest son of Rev.
Robert and Janet (Boyd) McMor-die, inherited the plantation of his father, located in Cumberland Township, York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania. David, the son

SMALL TALK IN PARADISE

Woodrow Wilson Deplores Lack Of Issues; Jefferson Says Integrity Always An Issue

IN PARADISE it was afternoon in the Elysian Fields Statesmen's Club. Statesmen of every nation and generation were loafing on the veranda. A few pored over heavy books in the ornate, alabaster trimmed, reading room.
But Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson were dejectedly standing just outside the door to the television room. A bald, intellectual appearing gentleman with a clipped, New England accent approached, greeted them cordially.

JEFFERSON: Hello, Quincy. No use going in there unless you want to see a horse race.

QUINCY (with anguish): Did they let Henry Clay get to Earth TV dial again?

White House Billiard Balls
WILSON (Sadly): Henry said it would be for just a few minutes; some Kentucky horse in a California race. That was an hour ago.

QUINCY (resignedly): I do want to see and hear Mr. Goldfine.

JEFFERSON: So do we, but why bother? From experience all of us have heard such slanders and know the tide of events that causes them.

WILSON: Yes, when both major parties advocate the same policies and comes another election year with no real issues, some must be created. . .

2. Son — Hans McMordie — "the 400 acres adjoining his brother
Robert, also 550 acres on Forked Deer River."

3. To Robert C. Cowan and my daughter Polly, his wife, 1,000 acres of the Forked Deer River Tract."

4. Son — Abraham J. McMordie
— "100 acres, where he now lives;
also to him my negro man 'Cuffs', and 500 acres of the Forked Deer River Tract."

5. Daughter — Margaret L. Mc-Mordie — "good riding horse, 20 sheep, also 1,000 acres of the Forked Deer River Tract."

6. Grandson — Francis McMordie.
7. Grandson — John Cowan.
8. Son-in-law — Dr. John Steel — "of Ohio, $500.00, to educate his son, Francis McMordie Steel."

9. Grandson — Francis McMor-die — "$500.00 for his education, also lots in Georgia."

The notes on the McMordies and their family connections will be

JEFFERSON: Integrity in public office is always a good issue.
QUINCY (bitterly): Every election when there are no burning issues, demagogues set reputations on fire to make integrity a burning issue. Take the case of those White House billiard balls. . .

Walpole Turns Up
WILSON (in subdued voice):
Here comes Teddy Roosevelt with an English gentleman whom I can't place.

TEDDY (with gusto fortissimo):
Howdy, gentlemen, howdy! Shake hands with Robert Walpole. You've read of him; English Prime under one or two of the King Georges.
Always bribed a wide margin in both houses of Parliament when he had a close vote. Just wanted to cut him on the Vicuna Coat Show so he can see how quickly modern America would have written him off the political books and blasted him out of history.

JEFFERSON (shaking hands with cool courtesy): We regret the delay. Mr. Clay is at the Earth TV controls.

TEDDY: Horses, horses, horses. . .
WILSON (warming to Walpole shrink back with obvious distaste):
Is it true you once said every politician has his price?

QUINCY: But who would consider billiard balls. . .

Too Many Not For Sale
WALPOLE (interrupting): A gross slander perpetrated upon me by nine political enemies. I did once gesture toward a small group of men who were then members of Parliament and said I knew the price of all but three. Long Ears Lord John Leveson-Gower heard me and exaggerated, to my hurt in a no-confidence vote.

TEDDY: Did you actually know their price?

WALPOLE: No; I just thought
I did. Otherwise I and my cabinet would not have been ousted on that no-confidence vote of 1742. Too many members were not for sale at any price, for I had a blank check on the Exchequer.

QUINCY: But who would think ivory billiard balls. . .
WILSON (ignoring Quincy): The real issue is not in the White House. If there be breach of faith it is by the weak unworthy bureaucrat who is swerved from his legal duty by a mere telephone call from a senator, congressman or even the President himself. A regulatory agency is no place for a weak character!

QUINCY: But when you get down to billiard balls. . .

TEDDY: All of us have been through it. George Washington was called a crook, in print. Jeff, party hacks wrote you up as a coward, despot and an infidel. President Andy Jackson was denounced in print as a multi — murderer, including his wife's first husband as a victim. (Quincy quietly drifted from the group.) Lincoln and Cleveland were cruelly slandered.
As for me, they could not think up anything more original than that I was a chronic, public drunk.

WALPOLE (nodding toward Quincy): Who is the precise gentleman who kept complaining about billiards?

WILSON: He is John Quincy Ad-

CUBS KO BRAVES AND GIANTS NIP PITTSBURGH TO TAKE NL LEAD

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants have moved back into the National League lead in what almost overnight has become a three-team race.

The Giants slipped into a half-game, .004 percentage point lead over Milwaukee by beating Pittsburgh 5-4 Friday night after the Chicago Cubs had knocked off the Braves 5-3.

The Cubs, winning six of their last seven and 10 of 13, are third, only three games behind. Everybody else is below .500, in a virtual tie for fourth place.

Redlegs Take Pair
Cincinnati tied St. Louis for fifth, just a point behind Pittsburgh, by taking a two-night pair from the Cardinals 8-3 and 2-1. The Reds, Cubs and Cards all are seven games behind.

Then comes Philadelphia, 7½ games behind and just .004 percentage points ahead of last place Los Angeles after losing 8-6 to the Dodgers.

That leaves a spread of only .012 percentage points and one game over the last five clubs.

Homers Beat Braves
The Giants, who have won four in a row and seven of their last eight, moved back into the same lead they held Sunday with four runs in the third and Stu Miller's clinching double in the fourth.

Miller (3-4) had the Cubs buffaloed until the eighth, when three singles with two out scored their second run and brought on Marv Grissom.

The Cubs got their runs on homers. Walt Morin's two-run shot in the eighth bagged it off Carl Willey, now 2-3 with his third consecutive defeat. Ernie Banks hit a three-run homer, his 25th, in the third, but the Braves, who had won four in a row, tied it on Hank Aaron's 19th homer in the sixth after Joe Adcock's 11th set off a two-run fifth. Unbeaten Johnny Briggs went all the way to win his fourth.

Don Newcombe, whose only other victory this season also in over the Cards, gave up home runs by Pinch-hitter Joe Taylor and Joe Cunningham, but hit a two-run homer, a double and a single himself while winning the opener. Walt Dropo's three-run double put it away in the sixth.

Phils Lose 7th
Wilmer Mizell lost his seventh as the Reds scored two in the first without a hit on two walks, a passed ball and sacrifice fly. The Reds, just off a seven-game losing streak, built a three-game winning streak on home runs by George Crowe and Frank Robinson's 11th broke it up in the ninth off Bob Mabe (0-1). Bob Purkey won his 11th, blanking the Cards, who have lost seven in a row, on three hits after the first inning, when two singles, a walk and a fly ball scored their run.

The Dodgers won it in a six-run fifth inning with Steve Bilko hitting a two-run homer. Don Zimmer also homered for the Dodgers, while Chico Fernandez and Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils, who have lost seven straight. Carl Erskine won it. Jack Sanford lost it, both in relief.

Littlestown Little League
The Vets retained their slim hopes of overtaking the league-leading Giants by outslugging the Eagles 12-8 Friday evening in a Littlestown Little League game.

Monday's game: Giants vs. Eagles.

BOSTON WINS SLUGFEST OVER TIGERS 11 TO 9

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers had at it Friday night, slugging 33 hits between them as Boston won 11-9 on Frank Malzone's grand-slam homer.

That gave the second-place Red Sox a game on New York, beaten 2-1 by Kansas City and Dick Tomar, who came within an out of being the first left-hander to shut out the Yankees in two years.

Chicago beat Washington 9-2 with Al Smith's slam and five RBI backing up Early Wynn's four-hitter. Cleveland, 7-6 for the season against Baltimore, checked the Birds' bid for the first division with a 5-1 victory.

A's Beat Larson
The Red Sox, who have won five straight for a 3½-game cushion over third place Detroit, collected 18 hits, five by Pete Runnels, who had three doubles and took the 12-8 Friday evening in a Littlestown Little League game.

Monday's game: Giants vs. Eagles.

Southpaw Hal Woodeshick, whose other two major league starts and decisions resulted in defeats with Detroit in 1956, gained his first complete game with a seven-hitter for the Indians. Earl Averill, up from San Diego with Woodeshick, hit a three-run homer off loser Chuck Beamon (0-3).

LOCAL PRO IS ELIMINATED IN PGA BY STROKE

Among those eliminated in the PGA golf tournament at the Llanerch Country Club, Havertown, during second round play Friday was Dick Schleicher, Gettysburg Country Club pro, who missed qualifying for today by one stroke.

Schleicher fired a 77 Friday as compared to his 78 of the previous day, giving him a total 155 score. Tournament officials slashed all from the field who had a two-day total of over 154 for the 36 holes of medal play.

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Assn. championship field moved past the halfway point today as closely bunched as a field of maiden two-year-olds dashing down the straight-away course at Belmont Park.

And the odds against any one player's winning the title were about as uncertain as in one of those celebrated racing scrambles.

Going into today's third round at the Llanerch Country Club, Jay Hebert and Dow Finsterwald, two golfers with special reasons for wanting to win this title, had their noses in front. That is, they were one stroke ahead of three of golf's toughest tournament competitors.

Sam Snead, Julius Boros and Billy Casper—by the margin of 139 to 140.

Jay Hebert, who birdied the last four holes in a fiery attack on the shortened 35-35-70 par of the 6-727 yard Llanerch course, is the older brother of last year's winner, Lionel Hebert.

For the past year Jay, who never has won a major championship, has had to live to a certain extent in his brother's shadow. Finsterwald was the player Lionel beat in last year's final.

Pair Broke Far
They had been one-two after the first round. Finsterwald leading with a 67. Jay Hebert birdied his way to a 71 Friday and Dow caught up with birdies on the 16th and 18th holes for a 72. Only these two were able to break par for the first 36 hole over the narrow, unexpectedly rugged course.

In all, 13 players were clustered within four strokes of the lead at the start of the third round.

At 141, just two strokes off the lead, were the two outsiders. They were Felice Torza of Aurora, Ill., who was runner-up in the 1953 PGA championship, and Bill Collins, an unemployed pro who has placed well occasionally during the winter tour.

Four champions shared the 142 spot—Lionel Hebert, the defending titleholder; Tommy Bolt, the current Open champion; and Jack Burke and Doug Ford, recent winners of the PGA title. At 142 were Ted Kroil, 1956 runner-up to Burke, and Don Whit, a former Navy buddy of Casper and a successful tourist.

154 Break-off Point
As a substitute for the "Black Fridays" of match play days, the PGA instituted a cutoff after the second round which eliminated all but 93 players who scored 154 or better. Another cut today will reduce the field to the low 60 and ties for Sunday's final.

Among those who failed to make the grade were 56-year-old Gene Sarazen, past winner of three PGA and two U.S. Open titles; former PGA champs Jimmy Turnesa and Chandler Harper; former Open champion Jack Fleck and 47-year-old Jimmy Demaret, who still hasn't won a major national title.

GOLF
HOT SPRINGS, Va. — Wiff Smith, St. Clair, Mich., and Ruth Jensen, Seattle, Wash., shot two-under-par best balls of 72 for 142 totals and a three-stroke lead at the halfway point of the Hot Springs women's four-ball tournament.

House and Baxes got the winner. Larsen (7-4) allowed only three hits the rest of the way. Tomanek (5-4) gave up 11 hits, but had a shut out until pinch-hitter Yogi Berra's bad-hop single with two out in the ninth.

Wynn Fans 100
Wynn (9-8) fanned 11, passing the 100 mark for nine consecutive seasons, and had the Nats shut out until the eighth, when unlikely errors by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox allowed two unearned runs. Rookie John Romonosky (1-1) lost it.

SCANLON DRUBS GALE KERWIN IN GARDEN FIGHT

By MURRAY ROSE

The Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Undeclared and unranked Bobby Scanlon is after bigger game in the light-weight division. The classy San ready for ranking fighters after soundly drubbing taller and heavier Gale Kerwin in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

So Manager Art Benjamin promptly named Johnny Bussio, Paolo Rosi, or Carlos Ortiz as possible opponents for Bobby's next shot. The three New Yorkers all are in the top ten of the 135-pound class.

Scanlon, a pro four years, has won 26 straight and is unbeaten in 31. Only a draw with Frankie Madison in his fifth scrap mars the record.

Bobby gave away height 5-5 to 5-8, weight 134½ to 139½ and reach to Kerwin but carried the fight all the way to his rangy foe. "I just didn't have a thing," said Kerwin, a 23-year-old Canadian now living in Valley Stream, N. Y. He had been sidelined four months by anemia. His record now is 27-7-1. Because of the long layoff, Kerwin was a 7-5 underdog.

The officials all had Scanlon far ahead. Referee Mercante and Judge Bill Recht each had it 6-3-1 in rounds. Judge Artie Schwartz scored it 7-3. The AP card had it 7-5 for Scanlon.

Gettysburg, Littlestown Little League All-Stars Get Set For Tournament

Two area Little League All-Star teams will get their first taste of tournament play for 1958 at Newville next week. The Gettysburg All-Stars will clash with the Carlisle American League All-Stars on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock while the Littlestown All-Stars will meet the Carlisle National League All-Stars Tuesday evening at six.

Both squads are expected to be strong at every position, but as in the past, the pitching will probably tell the difference.

Manager Noel Flynn and Coach Fred Baker of the Gettysburg outfit will call upon right-hander Johnny Longanecker (8-0), the Rotary's ace hurler, to toss the opening game. Tommy Collins, league leading hitter (.625) will be the first line receiver. Manager Flynn has indicated that Doug Appler, Lion speed-baller, will stand by should Longanecker get into trouble.

The Gettysburg coaching staff would not comment on their starting line-up, but said the infield will be picked from Roger Giberson, Rotary; Mike Flynn, Rotary; Rick Fisel, Moose; Dan King, Lions; Ed Tilberg, Lions, and Tommy McDermitt, Bream's. The outfield will be chosen from Dane Kennell, Rotary; Gene Schultz, Lions; Rick Jones, Bream's; Bob Greiner, Moose, and Roy Fairman, Bream's.

The utility catcher will be Eddie Tilberg, Lions. On the squad there will be a variety of pitchers from whom to choose. Greiner and Fairman are left-handers, while Jones, Fisel and Giberson are righthanders.

Littlestown Squad
Ed Leister and Walter Myers, managers of the Littlestown team, have stocked their roster with plenty of pitching talent to meet their stiff opponents, the Carlisle Nationals.

Heading the list of hurlers are such top performers as Robert Smith, Giants; Fred Snyder, Vets, and Terry Pottorff, Eagles. The outfield will be composed of the heavy hitting Terry Morelock, Eagles; James Blocher, Eagles; Terry Ginn, Lions, and Allen Kuhn, Lions.

The infield will be composed of Steve Basehoar, Giants; Greg Myers, Vets; Terry Arbogast, Vets, and Joe Boyd, Vets. The catching is expected to be divided among Eddie Koonz, Eagles; Ted Bortner, Giants, and Jeff Robert, Vets.

Both squads have been drilling regularly for their tournament action.

NEW STEELTON COACH
STEELTON, Pa. (AP) — Harry Johnston is the new head football coach of the Steelton-Highspire High School there.

Johnston, a graduate of Lock Haven Teachers, has been assistant coach at the school for six years. He succeeds Joe Shevock, who resigned recently because of ill health.

Michigan State's record against Big Ten rivals since joining the conference in 1953 shows 20 victories and 10 defeats.

County Tomato Growers Must Use Extra Care On Cultivation

Adams County tomato growers had to contend with heavy rains in planting tomatoes and packed soil may have resulted.

Growers should be particularly careful in cultivating tomatoes. If soil was packed during planting, cultivating 5-6 inches deep while plants are still young may be advisable. However if deep cultivation is necessary, he suggests growers do it early in the life of the plant and be sure to stay at least five inches away from the plant.

Shallow cultivations, just deep enough to loosen surface soil. Usually this will be one inch or less. Various studies have shown that a high percentage of tomato roots are in the top 6 inches of soil layer. To minimize injury to these important roots, use sweeps instead of pointed shovels.

Adjust cultivators to pull some soil towards the plants. This helps surface drainage and also will smother germinating weeds.

Experienced growers will examine shovels and roots of plants after starting to cultivate to see how much damage they are doing. Then they will adjust depth accordingly. This is important during latter part of cultivating season, as many yields are reduced by improper cultivation.

Beef Cattle Field Days

Both the State Hereford and Angus Field Days are scheduled at Penn State this year. Hereford cattle enthusiasts will meet Saturday, July 12, while the Angus breeders are scheduled one week later — Saturday, July 19.

The Hereford Field Day July 12 will begin at 10 a.m. with a tour of the beef cattle — forage research project at the nearby Rockview Prison farm. Over 100 head of steers are demonstrating the value of different grasses and legumes in this joint project of the Agronomy and Animal Husbandry Departments. The touring group will leave the university beef barn promptly at 10 a.m.

Following a picnic lunch in Hort Woods, the Hereford Field Day program will continue at the beef barn during the afternoon.

The Angus Field Day today was devoted primarily to the association's newly adopted type classification program. Penn State's Angus herd was the first in Pennsylvania to be officially classified. This classification program began about 9 a.m.

The annual business meeting of the Pennsylvania Angus Breeders' Association will be held at State College Friday evening.

1957 Wool Incentive Program
Payments made under the National Wool Act are designed to encourage producers to do a good job of marketing their wool. Market prices differ greatly for the wide range of grade and classes of wool produced.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently announced that shorn wool payments for the 1957 marketing year, under the wool incentive program, will amount to 15.5 percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1957 marketing year. This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $15.50 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

The department also announced that the payment rate on sales of shorn lambs, to compensate for the loss of wool, will be 33 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices will begin making payments soon after July 1. Applications for payment were filed with these offices by April 30. The payments will be made only on shorn wool and lambs marketed between April 1, 1957, and March 31, 1958. To be eligible for payments, the lambs must have never been shorn.

Deductions For Advertising
Deductions of one per cent per pound from shorn wool payments and five cents per 100 pounds of live-weight from lambs payments will be made for the advertising, promotion, and related market development activities on wool and

The WEEDERS GUIDE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

The Associated Press
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — Gardening is one of the hobbies — along with painting, ceramics and handicrafts — important in the treatment of mental problems. It is, so I read recently in an article by one of the nation's top psychiatrists, a part of the therapy program in the nation's best mental hospitals.

Dr. William Menninger said gardening is often able to catch the interest of a patient who for too long has been concerned only with thinking about himself. Certainly lamb. This self-help promotion program (under Section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954) is carried on by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., which was established for that purpose. The deductions from the payments to finance the program were approved by producers in a referendum in 1955.

The shorn wool payment rate was determined on the basis of the marketing year, and the 62-cent per pound incentive level announced for the 1957 marketing year in October 1956. The average price producers received for shorn wool during the 1957 marketing year was 53.7 cents per pound as determined by the Agricultural Marketing Service on the basis of prices reported by producers in their applications for payment. The wool incentive rate of 15.5 per cent is the amount needed to bring the average return for wool up to the incentive level of 62 cents. To determine the wool incentive payment for individual producers, the rate of 15.5 per cent is applied to the dollar return each producer received for wool after paying marketing charges.

It is true that the average hobby gardener, even the one who thinks Milton is a Connecticut suburb, is likely to be more concerned with his plants than with himself. Many a time one of us has worked happily in a drizzle transplanting seedlings under the best of all possible plant conditions and the worst of all human conditions.

And I must say that it is hard to take time out worrying about a badache, induced by too much raking when the dogwood is showing signs of wilting and you can't find any evidence of a borer or any other symptom of trouble. Gardeners rarely have trouble sleeping. We usually drop into bed after a day behind a hoe and go swiftly into unconsciousness.

Fortunately, demands of the garden drop off rather sharply during these hot weather months. The hectic pace of spring and fall would be too much for the gardener to follow when the sun is high and hot.

Basic Work Completed
This is a time when grass growth slows down and the time between mowings lengthens a bit. Most of the basic planting work is done and it is time now to start thinking about any necessary fall improvement work — needed trees or shrubs. It is, however, a fine time to start seed for perennials and biennials so that seedlings can be moved into permanent position by fall, ready for bloom next year. Best location for such seed beds is one which provides the young seedlings with some shade against the summer sun. In the event such a place is hard to find, next best solution is to arrange some sort of portable screen for a partial shield.

Annuals and perennials continue blooming for a longer period if they are not permitted to make seed. Therefore picking off fading flower heads is an important garden chore at this time of the year. However, the later blooms are not likely to be as big, dramatic or attractive as the first blooms, and if you are interested in collecting seed, it is wise to pick the best blooms rather than the later ones for this purpose.

Best time to cut flowers for inside use is first thing in the morning. Use a sharp cutting tool, so that the stem is severed cleanly from the plant — not crushed off — and then plunged into air temperature water and stored for several hours in a cool dark place — a cellar is good — to recover from the shock of cutting. They will last longer if so treated. Stems of such materials as poppies should be plunged briefly in boiling water to seal the end of the stems lest they, unlike other plants, bleed to death.

There are light years and there are heavy years, but in our neighborhood there are always too many Japanese beetles. One daily garden chore in season which is worthwhile is to make the rounds hand-picking the beetles. Evening is the best time for this, because the handsome coppery beetles are sluggish.

DIDN'T GET JOB
CINCINNATI (AP) — The name of Benjamin Odom, 28, was certified by the City Civil Service Commission for appointment as a guard at the Cincinnati workhouse. Odom didn't get the job. He already was at the workhouse serving out a $42 fine for traffic violations.

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — The day before school was out, 12-year-old Gary Curry fell out of a tree. Both arms were broken below the elbows. He still was wearing casts this week when, while riding his bicycle, he fell and broke his left arm again, this time near the shoulder.

REORGANIZATION OF DEFENSE DEPT. OK'D BY SENATE

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Unanimous Senate passage spurred administration hopes today for a congressional compromise that would give President Eisenhower most of the broad powers he wants to streamline the Pentagon.
With a surprising burst of speed and bipartisan backing, the Senate Friday night passed legislation requested by Eisenhower to authorize a reorganization of the Defense Department.
The vote was 60-0 and came after only four hours of debate on the bill regarded as one of the most controversial before this session of Congress.
Goes To House
The measure now returns to the House which earlier approved a version containing some features strongly objected to by the President. If the House balks, as expected, at some of the Senate changes, the bill will go to a Senate-House conference committee for attempts at compromise.
Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said changes made by his group go a long way toward overcoming the administration's objections.
At the same time, he said the changes attempt to quiet fears that the secretary of defense would be given power to abolish or reduce the Marine Corps, Naval Aviation or the National Guard.
Major Change
The Senate bill specifies that all three are established by law and that advance congressional authority is needed for a major revision.
The major change made by the Senate was elimination of a House requirement strongly opposed by the administration that the secretary of defense exercise his broad powers through the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force.
In its place, the Senate version continues a requirement for separate organization of the three branches but spells out clearly that the secretary of defense is the top man in authority.
